

Requirements for the Use of Wood (Rev. 07/2021)

The CITES list is always the final authority. Also, the timber species in this document are not exhaustive and in particular, only the most common tropical woods are listed.

If any species of wood is unknown or you have any questions, please verify with your team before using.

Shading Color	Timber Requirements	Reason Code
RED	Timber species is on the CITES list and is not permitted to be used for Crate and Barrel or CB2 products	1.1
ORANGE	Exception: Timber listed on CITES Annex III. Can use only if statutory documents and the FSC-certificate for the product is available (wood, factory and supplier are FSC certified).	1.2
ORANGE	This wood is tropical timber. The use of tropical wood for products is generally only permitted if statutory documents and the FSC-certificate for the product is available . Note: Having just the wood certified FSC is not enough - the entire product must be certified.	2.1
YELLOW	Exception: While a tropical timber, the use of this tropical wood does not require FSC if our Plantation Grown exception is satisfied on the Product Information Bulletin ("PIB")	2.2
NO SHADING	No FSC requirements	3

Acacia Guidance

In general, since acacia is a tropical wood, product made with acacia requires FSC Certification. Further, FSC Certification is required for all acacia that is:

Listed on CITES;

Listed on IUCN Red List of Vulnerable Species; or,

Listed on the "Crate and Barrel & CB2 Requirements for the Use of Wood" document.

However, we can waive our prerequisite of requiring FSC certification for acacia if:

1. The species is plantation grown; and
2. Country of harvest of China, India or Vietnam; and,
3. The species is listed below.

We have identified the following species of Acacia where the plantation exception applies:

ALBIZIA DURAZ	FARNESIANA
CONFUSA	MANGIUM
ESTROPHIOLATA	NILOTICA

Final authority is always CITES or IUCN Red List of Vulnerable Species

Plantation is defined as:

“A forest area established by planting or sowing with using either alien or native species, often with one or few species, regular spacing and even ages, and which lacks most of the principal characteristics and key elements of natural forests.”

How to confirm for the Company that the species is plantation grown:

For the above species of acacia, suppliers need to confirm on the Quote Sheet and PIB if the acacia is plantation grown. Questions? Reach out to your Merchandise Team and socialcompliance@crateandbarrel.com.
